In this beloved and interactive class, students will have the opportunity to increase their knowledge and understanding of the vast field and branches of Psychology. Learn how various aspects of Psychology are weaved into our everyday life....i.e. why famous fast food restaurants are styled with certain colors? How the power of memory and perception can collide, and people can be convinced that they are eating Strawberry Ice Cream when it is really Chocolate. Via Zoom and in person, instructor Erin V. will present current scientific research findings to teach aspects of development and behavior, personality styles, the way we learn new skills and talents and the connection between thoughts-feelings-actions as a universal human response. Class will also examine psychology's interesting influence in various fields such as animal care, advertising, fashion and education.
