

Show Performance Class: Acting Technique

Thursday | 3:00 PM - 3:50 PM | Via Zoom and/or in-person
Instructor: David Macaluso

This class will continue to provide guided performance art instruction for students to act out what THEY have created. This class will teach students how to “act-ively” bring their own and/or their peers creative ideas to life.

There is no better way to see how a script plays out than having actors give life to it! How many ways can you deliver a line? What is your intention?

We will learn true acting techniques and implement them as we continue to build the BUE creative community through this imaginative and innovative class. Students will exercise their mental flexibility, communication and creative thinking skills as they join together to create their own performances.
