

Exploring Broadway: The Music, Film and Stage of Disney

Wednesday | 2:00 PM - 2:50 PM | Via Zoom and/or in-person

Instructor: David Macaluso

This beloved class will continue to teach students about Broadway and Disney's alignment via new classics like Descendants, Zombies, and High School Music which all have roots in classic music theatre.

We will go behind the scenes and have opportunities to read aloud as we study the history, development, and future of these films. We will listen to and discuss songs, read about the creative collaborations, and explore how stage musicals have transformed this creative genre.

Our community will listen, read, analyze and even sing along at times. Students will have opportunities to collaborate, discuss and present/communicate out their own research and opinions throughout this interactive BUE community class favorite.
