Communication...how we say what we say, to whom and when- is key to our ability to self-advocate and form positive relationships. The more confident we are in our ability to speak publicly, the greater our chances are of communicating assertively. In this interactive class, students will learn specific Communication techniques to support their ability to speak in both small and larger groups. Erin Ulasak and Amy Colvin are offering this class in-person at our Hauppauge location and via Zoom.

7 Wednesdays for $315.00
