This student favorite class is back with exploring music from the naughts! Join us via Zoom or in-person at our location in Hauppauge, NY this Winter and Spring as we delve into the culture and history of music during the 2000's. Which singers and bands got their start in the naughts and are the influencers of today's music. Students love this class and have said that Instructor Baron gets them thinking about and understanding music they thought they "knew" already...on a whole other level. In addition to a background in and a love of music and all things Disney, instructor Jason Baron has been an educator working with children, young adults and adults for over 15 years. His love for the ABC Class community at BUE shines through in each of his classes!
