All are welcome to join this interactive, creative NEW class designed to be an introductory exploration into the world of content creation and presentations. Students will learn about current social media platforms and “influencers” that communicate messaging out through their creative content. In this relaxed but informative class, students will have the opportunity to act, sing, create and share out creative content and presentations that they conceptualize. Instructor Gabby brings her background in theater as Jason brings his background in music as they join forces with their social media content knowledge to teach students how to take their love of content creation and presenting to the next level.
