Essential Math For Real-World Problems

with ERIN VLASAK, M.S.

class description: Instructor Erin Vlasak has been teaching and tutoring Math Skills for nearly twenty years. She is excited to make our day-to-day Math needs fun again!

You may not realize this, but we use math skills every single day! Let's refresh those essential math skills to increase our confidence. Whether it is figuring out daily calories or body weight, mileage for traveling costs, how much money we need to tip the waiter/waitress, or calculating how many ounces of tomato sauce we need to buy to make a homemade healthy pizza, strengthening your mathematical skills is important. In addition, we want to discuss how to save money by finding sale prices, discounts and using coupons to spend less of our hard-earned money. Erin looks forward to seeing you in this interactive and engaging Zoom class!

dates and times: 8 Wednesdays • 10 - 10:50am
