

Exploring Broadway: By Way of Music, Film & Stage

WEDNESDAYS | 2:00-2:50 PM | INSTRUCTOR: DAVID MACALUSO
IN-PERSON & VIA ZOOM: SEPTEMBER-DECEMBER 2025

Taught by BUE's Director of Performing Arts, David Macaluso, this beloved and interactive class will continue to teach students about Broadway and Disney's alignment via newer films like Descendants, Zombies, and High School Musical which all have roots in classic music theatre. This session will have a strong focus on WICKED!

In this class, students will go behind the scenes and have opportunities to receive stage and acting instruction when reading aloud as the class studies the history, development, and future of these productions. We will listen to and discuss songs, read about the creative collaborations, and explore how stage musicals have transformed this creative genre. Our class community will listen, read, analyze and even sing along at times. Students will have opportunities to collaborate, discuss and present/communicate out their own research and opinions throughout this interactive BUE community class favorite.
