

History of Walt Disney: Pixar Meets Disney

TUESDAYS | 10:00-10:50 AM | INSTRUCTOR: JASON BARON
IN-PERSON & VIA ZOOM: SEPTEMBER-DECEMBER 2025

Join this interactive and beloved class taught by Jason Baron! This session of History of Disney will specifically focus on the adversity that both Disney and Pixar characters have faced and overcame. Disney and Pixar's famous films have taken character development and relationships to another level. This class will thoroughly explore how that came to be and analyze how these timeless characters can relate to us today. Through film and scene critique, students will research and share their findings, discovering how specific character's trials and triumphs align (or not) with their own belief systems and/or moments of adversity.

Together, we will learn how the history and enduring legacy of Disney captured even more hearts with its Pixar expansion and additional character development and storylines. This class will examine how popular characters from both have strengthened one another's legacy. This class will also continue to explore the cultural and historical impact that Disney and Pixar's characters have had by challenging students to think critically, apply research skills and present content on a weekly basis.
